

NOVEMBER 2014

Give Thanks for Work Benefits

Learn how to maximize your options.

For many companies and organizations, November is benefits enrollment season where you can sign up or make adjustments to your benefits. Take this month to learn more about your individual benefits and how you can make the most of them.

A typical benefits package is worth a lot, often as much as 25% of an employee's income. Employer-sponsored benefits can include health, retirement, disability, life, long-term care and flexible spending accounts. Knowing what your employer offers will allow you to take full advantage of the health plans, retirement options, and protect your and your family's future.

To help you think about this, check out WISER's brochure "20 Ways to Take Advantage of Your Company Benefits Plan": http://www.wiserwomen.org/pdf_files/wiserEmplBenefit%20ChecklistWeb.pdf
